HAPPINESS

Krishnaraj

- One World Academy

"A series of transformative insights and experiences at aged sixteen culminated in Krishnaraj's decision to help people. He has been offering spiritual seminars throughout the world for individuals and groups to foster well-being, happiness and awareness for the last fifteen years and is currently based between the UK & India. 'Inspirational'- 'Profound'- 'Beautiful'- 'Meaningful'- 'A wise presence' are just a few of the descriptions used to describe Krishnaraj's talks, meditations and his gentle wise presence."

What is the basis of a beautiful relationship?

A happy mind is at the base of beautiful relationships. A mind that can free itself of emotional conflicts whenever they arise and return to tranquility is a happy mind.

A happy mind means a richer experience of life.

A richer experience is possible when one is rooted more in the present, when one's mind is free of the need to blame, where life is lived without complaint.

A happy mind means greater prosperity.

A mind that is calm is capable of greater intelligence, which means right decisions and right actions that can set you on the path of greater achievement.

Studies reveal that a staggering 85% of life's fulfillment comes from loving relationships, not money or position.

By the same token pain in relationships can take away substantial amounts of joy and peace from us. A happy relationship means a greater acceptance, a deeper feeling, a higher meaning and a lasting connection.

Living by Love

Life can be lived with any meaning. Some chose to live by power, some chose to live by pleasure. The true leaders among us chose to live by love... love for another or love for a cause. Love keeps you alive. Love gives you the strength to surmount challenges. Love creates a difference. Such love is the hallmark of happiness and well-being.
